Billed as the largest boat in its class, the Fountain 38 Tournament Edition, with its 10-foot, 6-inch beam, is built to get you to the fish—and get you there faster and with a smoother ride. Plus, the 38 provides a spacious fishing platform.

Fishing-friendly features include rod storage in a full forward cabin and a circulating livewell. The stand-up head in the console features a sink, shower and VacuFlush toilet. A 360-gallon fuel capacity lets you cruise more than 575 miles at speeds of more than 40 mph; if that's not enough, the company's optional 120-gallon fuel capacity extends your range to more than 775 miles. Tested by racing legend Reggie Fountain himself, the boat's twin step positive lift hull runs an impressive 66+ mph with three of Mercury's fuel-efficient 225 Optimax outboards.

The 38 also comes in a sport edition that includes a radar arch with sunshade, retractable bimini top, side-by-side electric bolster seats and a wraparound bench seat.
